THE CITY SCHOOLS.

A score of 40 to 0 was the record of our football team over Normangee last Friday. Of course our pupils are proud of it.

A. M. Waldrop, of the board of trustees, was here one day recently, looking through that new home economics department. The Bryan schools are still going to the front, and the trustees are cordially supporting advanced movements.

One of the good things coming is a literary program in Latin, parts, songs and all to be rendered in the language of the ancient Romans. That it is being prepared by Miss Wesa Weddington means that it will be a treat for all who have literary and linguistic taste. It will be a chance to hear something of a kind rarely if ever heard in this part of the country.

You don't know how pretty a lot of Latin songs will be till you hear them sung by the young people in the Bryan high school. In the language of the Scriptures, "Come and see."

The Curtis Tests in arithmetic were given recently in the Bryan schools. That is the first time the tests of present day experts have been tried in this part of the country, but then, Bryan schools are in the lead in more ways than one.

In the elementary grades, taking the country over, more pupils fail on arithmetic than on any other subject. That explains the efforts we are making to stress the fundamentals of that subject in the Bryan schools.

Those who know anything about it know that Bryan teachers are a hard working body of people. As an illustration, Mr. Simpson is taking a special laboratory course in chemistry at the A. & M. College on Saturdays.

Only those who continue to study are fit to continue to teach. That is the doctrine which makes for progress in the Bryan schools. Instruction from one who has ceased to study, and a drink from a stagnant pool—these are very much alike.

Of the class of 1915, Noah Danaby, Charlie Crawford and Frank Wittman are in the A. & M. College, Aubrey Wilkerson in the University of Texas, Lois Pipkin in Baylor College, Ruby South in Rice Institute, Lucy Harrison in the College of Industrial Arts and George Wicker and Walter Holmes in the Tyler Commercial College.

And now comes the dean of the school of education of a great Northern University and in a letter to the superintendent highly commends our city institute course of study. Again we say, "Those who know anything about it know that Bryan teachers are a hard working body of people." W. C. LAWSON, Superintendent.

A. & M. EXPERTS TO VISIT BEXAR

Will Campaign for Better Farming, Better Home Life and Improved Community Interest.

Final preparations for a whirlwind school house campaign for a better system of agriculture in Bexar County will be conducted during the week beginning November 18 by specialists from the A. & M. College. The gospel of better farming, better home life and an improved community life will be preached at every rural school in Bexar County. Specialists from the A. & M. College extension service will discuss all phases of agriculture and home economics and domestic science at the Bexar County rural schools. At each school house a half-day's program of talks and demonstrations in practical agriculture and domestic science will be given and then the team will be rushed to the next school house. Hog cholera, its prevention, control and eradication will be discussed by Dr. Frank R. Jones, hog cholera expert, United States Department of Agriculture, co-operating with the A. & M. College. O. M. Geron, agronomist to the extension service, will discuss soil building, cropping systems, fertilization and general agricultural problems.

R. L. Pou, dairy husbandman to the extension service, will talk on all phases of dairy and creamery management, clean milk production, feeding dairy cows and the value of a few cows on every farm.

Mrs. G. M. Geron will talk on various features of domestic science and home economics and give demonstrations in that line of work.

The team of extension workers will be under the general direction of W. G. Hand, demonstration agent in Bexar County, United States Department of Agriculture and the A. & M. College.

Invitations to all farmers, their wives and children to attend these meetings have been issued and a full attendance at each meeting is desired.

The talks will deal with both the practical and the theoretical sides of important agricultural problems. Demonstrations in the selection of livestock for the farm, in vaccinating hogs for the cholera, will be features at each school house meeting.

The campaign in Bexar County is the first of a large number that are being planned by Director Outley of the extension service. In addition to reaching the farmer with reliable and important information, this method of conducting movable schools will "tie the farmer onto the schools" more closely in Mr. Outley's opinion. Last summer forty-five of these movable schools in agriculture and domestic science were conducted by the college.

AS THE NEWS BREAKS

(By Associated Press.) DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 19.—The first events on an entertainment program, for which $6,000 was appropriated, in honor of the annual convention of the Southern Medical Association were to have been held here today. One of the principal features is a banquet at the Adolphus Hotel for all the visitors.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 9.—The annual meeting of the Texas Fraternal Congress was to be opened here today, with delegates from almost every order and lodge in the State. O. B. Briggs of Georgetown is president of the congress. The congress has a membership of about 300,000. This is the first time San Antonio has entertained the lodge members.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 9.—The monthly hearing of the Corporation Commission was to have been held here today. Among the cases set for hearing is the State line ticket order that resulted in fines against the Rock Island Railroad. It is said that the order will presumably be reversed on rehearing. This is a part of the two-cent fare cases which came up some time ago.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 9.—A grand jury in the Seventeenth district court is investigating, under instructions from Judge Swayne, the sale of the Fort Worth Savings Bank and Trust Company to E. E. Baldrige. Grand juries in the Forty-eighth and Sixty-seventh district courts were also given the same charge. All juries have been instructed to ascertain, if possible, who was responsible for the bank's failure; but the sale investigation is a new movement.

WHAT THE BOOKS
AT A. & M. SHOW

Books Audited and Total Valuation in All Departments Shown.

An investment of $1,583,046.96 at the A. & M. College, $315,115.40 at the Texas agricultural experiment station, and $249,442.35 at the Prairie View State Normal is shown in the report of E. F. Hunter of the Alamo Auditing Company of San Antonio, whose report of the audit of the business affairs of these institutions was made public today by President Bissell of the college. The report covers the financial affairs of A. & M., the experiment station and Prairie View and is an elaborate one.

The inventory of the college proper follows:

Land, 2,416 acres.....	$148,925.00
Buildings and other permanent improvements..	1,160,222.57
Miscellaneous, live stock, scientific apparatus, etc.	378,899.39

Total.....$1,583,046.96

The Texas agricultural experiment station inventory follows:

Main station, lands, buildings, farm machinery, etc.,	$50,676.44
Eleven substations, lands, etc.,	234,436.96

Total.....$315,115.40

The Prairie View Normal for negroes shows the following values:

Campus and farm lands, 1,376 acres.....	$34,400.00
Buildings and other permanent improvements..	161,565.96
Miscellaneous, live stock, machinery, scientific equipment, etc.,	63,476.42

Total.....$249,442.32

In the report Auditor Hunter also commends the business administration and the spirit of harmony shown at the college. In speaking of these matters, the report says:

"We would state that while the year just closed was low in point of attendance, it ranked high in other respects. The conduct of affairs in all departments seems to have developed more systematic and harmonious relations, not only internally but in their relations with other departments. During our several weeks stay at the college we heard not one word that would indicate a lack of harmony in or between any department. Considering the varied interests and conditions, this is an extraordinary state of affairs, and certainly speaks well for the guiding forces. "From a financial point of view, the past year has made a remarkably good showing. With reduced appropriations and student attendance, the management has, nevertheless, added materially to the surplus account and the college is carrying practically no outstanding indebtedness."

This report will be considered at the next meeting of the board of directors.

ZEPPELINS GIVE BOYS NEW JOB

London, Nov. 9.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The darkening of the London streets has provided a new occupation for the small boy. Armed with a small electric flash lamp, he takes his position soon after nightfall at the suburban subway station and carefully scans the faces of arriving passengers. Eying a stranger, he advances, and flashing his little lamp, offers to conduct the stranger to his destination. The price of the service, which is generally eagerly taken advantage of, is 10c to 15c, according to the distance.

HINTS FOR THE HOUSEHOLD.

To Preserve in Good Condition Varnish Linoleum Once a Year. Varnish the linoleum once a year: it will keep in good condition longer. A rubber pad cut to fit the sink is a very handy article in the kitchen. Woolen fabrics such as flannel shirts, petticoats, trousers and blankets should be pulled into shape and hung straight to dry. Put cauliflower in plain water to draw out any insects. After the insects have come out put salt in the water—it will kill them. When making sauces, etc., in which there are flour or corn starch and sugar, mix the two together before adding to the liquor and the flour will not lump.

A home-made dustless duster is a piece of old underwear wrung out of a mixture of three tablespoonsful of linseed oil to one-half pint of kerosene. Saturate the cloth, wring dry and hang out to air.
